Rabbi's Reflections ~~ Rabbi Devora Buchen

Passover is upon us. The Seder should be the most significant family event in the Jewish home. Our community will come together again this year to produce and celebrate our unique Passover Seder. Traditional foods are served after liturgy, storytelling, and song. Virtually every Seder everywhere shares the matzo crumbs on the floor with wine stains on the tablecloth. We will rejoice.

Our ancient ancestors who fled into the desert surely did not have citrus fruit and I do not remember Florida orange being on the table when my father led the Seder. Teacher, writer, daughter of Abraham Heschel, Suzanne Heschel, first set it out on the Seder table as a symbol of those who were marginalized in the Jewish community. The orange on our table makes several spiritual and political statements. It honors the creative piety of us as creative liberal Jews who honor traditions by adding new elements to the old. And so we are kept alive. We are commanded to teach our children about the Exodus from Egypt in a manner so alive that everyone at the table, especially the kids, remembers, not merely imagines but remembers, what it feels like to be hungry, hunted, a slave. The Seder makes memory tangible, as tangible as any symbol of Passover.

The orange on our Seder table is a reference symbol of Judaism's ability to adapt and to thrive. Think about this, God, made the heavens and the earth, he also made dinosaurs and monkeys and human beings. G-d is clearly in love with variety and change.

Chag Sameach!

FROM YOUR PRESIDENT
HARVEY WOLFSON

Purim is over and Passover, our great holiday of freedom is fast approaching.

When you enjoyed the Purim Spiel this year, consider that every person on the stage has been rehearsing, purchasing props and costumes, and giving up their personal time for weeks to bring us all one evening of ritual, frivolity, and fun. The participants also had a great time and as a first timer, I can vouch for it. A special thanks to our rabbi who took this motley crew and turned us into a, sort of, coherent troupe.

Passover, is a time for remembering our escape from slavery in Egypt on our path to becoming a great nation. I say our, because it's taught that we were all slaves in Egypt. It is when we sit down to a sumptuous Seder with our Temple family. to retell the story of Moses and the Jewish people. To me, Passover has always been a holiday filled with the warmth of being with family and close friends as we drink the wine, eat the matzo ball soup, gefilte fish, matzo and other special treats.

Our Annual Meeting is scheduled for May 20th. Georgette Bothner, Peter Simenauer, Ruthie Belkin, Jerry Razowsky, and Herb Gallop have been appointed to the Nominating Committee. Our Temple needs people to step up and lead the congregation. I implore each person approached to fill a vacancy for an Officer or Board Committee Chairmanship to give it honest consideration. Each position has people that filled it in the past and I am sure they are willing to help you get started. Serving our Temple can be challenging. We give more time than we have, the appreciation we receive is never enough, and volunteers pay the same dues as those who just show up. Oh yes and let us not forget that our actual family never understands our commitment to our religious family. A position unfilled means that the function will either not be performed or not given the support necessary for its proper function. New Officers and Committee Chairmen bring new ideas which keeps us from stagnation.

There are far too many volunteers for me to mention everyone and every project, but please know that if you volunteer at Temple Beth Shalom, you are noticed and appreciated. Just as there are no unimportant parts in a stage play, there are no unimportant jobs in a synagogue. So, if you have been wondering how you can best serve our community, don't hesitate to ask Rabbi Buchan, one of the Board Members, or me how you can help. Volunteers are the heartbeat of the Temple.

A warm and happy Passover to all.

SISTERHOOD
President
by
Georgette Bothner

As everyone knows by now, I have resigned as president of Sisterhood, so this will be my last message in that capacity. I will continue to be a contributing member of Sisterhood and help in whatever way I can.

From day one, our Sisterhood has been my heart and as president it was my responsibility to do my very best to keep things running smoothly. Sisterhood deserves only the best and when it became apparent that I wasn't able to do this, I knew it was time to step down. I want to thank everyone, specially the members of Sisterhood, who generously and lovingly supported me in my efforts. Sisterhood is an important component of our Temple and it is my sincerest wish that it continued to exist to serve the good of out Temple.

Together we can do great things.We sponsored the most successful bingo event ever and the Gatlin concert was over the top! Our coordinators and worker bees that devote so much time, effort and energy to making these events so successful are to be congratulated and thanked. Jobs well done, you all are the greatest.

Sisterhood is always busy. In February we had a very successful Bingo night and spaghetti dinner. The food was delicious thanks to Janice Albion and all of her helpers. Everyone had fun and some even won a little a little money. Thanks to Fern Deutch for organizing the event, to Robin Razowsky, our caller and to all who donated items and helped with the setup and cleanup.

Our next event was Gatlin. It proved to be a rollicking good time with music, dancing and snacks. Thank you to Emily Lowenstein and her committee for this wonderful event.

Happy Passover!

Message from the TBS Treasurer

We are now in the final quarter of our 2017-2018 fiscal year, which ends May 31st. Our goal is for every member to be in "good standing" by Sunday, May 20th, for the Annual Congregational Meeting and Election.

Wendy Blyveis, Asst. Treasurer, and I want to thank all of you who have diligently kept your accounts up-to-date and paid your dues and other obligations on a timely basis, which is so important to keep the Temple on an even keel.

We especially thank those that chose to donate Voluntary Dues above and beyond their regular Annual Dues, which has been so helpful and is very much appreciated. We also want to take this opportunity to thank everyone for supporting this Temple in so many ways: cash donations, time and effort donations, food donations, event help, religious holiday help, bringing friends and family to Sisterhood and Brotherhood and Temple fundraising events. The list goes on and on and every little bit helps. We owe our success to ALL

by
Marcia Strumwater

On Thursday, March 29, 2018, the Religious School will hold its student Passover Seder. Seder plates will be prepared and some of the traditional food will be served. We will do an abbreviated service to prepare the children for the more traditional Seder the following night. Parents are encouraged to attend.

On Thursday, April 12, 2018, the students will be presenting their annual Holocaust Memorial play in the Temple sanctuary. Parents are encouraged to attend this brief service as well.

On Thursday, April 19, 2018, we will be celebrating Israel's 70th Birthday with a Yom Ha'Atzmaut celebration. Traditional Israeli foods will be served. Once again, parents are encouraged to attend.

The last day of class will be on Thursday, May 3, 2018.

BUILDING AND GROUNDS

Nathan Blyveis

The holocaust memorial has been trimmed and two new plants replaced two old scraggly ones.

A few new plants have been added to the flower boxes next to the front door after it was cleaned up.

A few variegated ivy plants have been added to the poorly fairing jasmine surrounding the big mahogany tree.

I am watering the vegetation around the building twice a week now, hoping it will help things survive until rainy season.

The report of the front door replacement options has been turned in to the Board of directors, with two things missing; a quote on the cost of replacing just the door panels, without replacing the frames, and a promised survey by the Cape Coral Police representative who can give us an overall estimate of what security measures should be taken. A difference of opinion remains on the assumption that only replacing the glass front doors will "deter" terrorists from choosing us as a target. My opinion is that we should be waiting for the professional opinion of the police.

Looking forward to another brotherhood work day. I have many things going on around the back of the building and cannot do all the cleanup work myself. It took me three weeks (because of loading up the dumpster) to get rid of all the Queen Palm trimmings. Now it's time to clean up the back yard and repair the "vegetation fence."

BROTHERHOOD

The joint brotherhood and sisterhood Latke and Chicken Soup Party was held before Shabbat Service on Friday December 22, 2017. The turnout was amazing completely filling the social hall. My sincere thanks to all the members of the brotherhood, sisterhood and the congregation for their help in making this event a great success!

On Sunday March 4 the TBS Brotherhood proudly sponsored the Purim Spiel. After a delicious supper and dessert of hamantaschen, the patrons of arts in attendance were rewarded. By the TBS acting troop lead by the Rabbi, told the story of Purim. The play was great fun to watch and perform! Thank you, to everyone who helped in making the event a fantastic success, a good time was had by all!

The TBS Brotherhood Bowling League is wrapping up a very enjoyable and successful season. On April 15th immediately after the final week of bowling, the bowling banquet will be held at the bowling alley.

1st Vice-President's Message

Georgette Bothner

What a winter! Hasn't anyone reminded mother nature this is Florida? Despite the weather, illness, "aging issues", personal commitments, busy schedules and fatigue, Temple business must go on.

Which brings me to a very important topic, congregation participation and burnout. I know that we have all put in our time and energy to make sure our wonderful Temple operates smoothly and I want you all to know that your input and help has been greatly appreciated. It's a fact- there are too many tasks to be done and not enough people to do them. My request to all of you, a plea really is to tap into inner reserve of energy and resources and recommit yourself to help keeping our Temple strong and vibrant, If we all pull together I am sure we can accomplish this important task.

Thank you, Georgette

Honorary Banquet Silent Auction by Leslie Volmer

To switch things around a little bit, this year we added a few items as a Live Auction. As part of the live auction we offered: a boat trip provided by Wendy & Nate Blyveis, Lunch with the Rabbi at University Grill, a stay at the Hampton Inn with a gift certificate to Bahama Breeze. tickets to the Jewish Film Festival, a stay at Tarpon Lodge with a gift certificate to Sandy Hook, a stay at the Simenauer's Condo on Ft. Myers Beach & a sign to be placed on Temple Ground with the high bidder picking the name. Twenty people bid $25 each and we are going to have the sign say Buchen Blvd. We sure did have fun at the event.

A special Thank You to the Auction Committee & helpers. The auction was a huge undertaking which would not have happened if it wasn't for them. We had a wonderful assortment of items to choose from.

Thank you to all of the people who bid and purchased items.

On the 17th, we had a Leftover Sale which was open to everyone who came to the banquet and those who were unable to attend the banquet. The Auction & Leftover Sale raised just under $5000 for our wonderful Temple.

2nd VICE-PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

by

Stuart Berman

March is turning out to be one of the busiest months for the temple. We started out with Purim and a presentation by our Oscar nominated cast of the Purim Spiel.

Then there was Gatlin, the Samuel Belkin Golf Outing, Bowling and last but not least the Passover Seder. Let's not forget Friday night services and Saturday Torah Study. What about the Brown Bag Luncheons?

As you can see the temple offers a variety of programs and activities for your spiritual, emotional and educational side and I hope you take advantage of it.

If you like being outdoors the Brotherhood sponsored a work day at the temple. With the help of the ladies of the congregation, books were moved, table and chairs were cleaned, the Memorial was painted and a host of other projects were completed to spruce up the temple. Thank you to all that participated.

During the coming months and prior to our Annual Membership meeting on May 20, members of the Nominating Committee will be looking to fill positions for the Board and Chairmanships of the various committees that keep the temple running smoothly. I hope you will consider accepting a position or contacting the President of your interest in serving or even co-chairing a committee.

The future of the Temple is in your hands.

On a personal note I would like to thank the Rabbi, the members of the congregation and all those that called and sent cards while I was in the hospital and Belle was home sick. We are truly grateful for such a wonderful family.

Look forward to seeing everyone at the Passover Seder.

TU B'SHEVAT

On Thursday, January 25, 2018, Temple Beth Shalom Religious School students participated in a Tu B'Shevat Seder led by teacher Aliza Bental with assistance from our own Rabbi Buchen. Traditional seder plates were made with each student receiving his or her own seder plate corresponding to the order of the seder. Each student had a reading explaining the significance of each plate and the fruits and vegetables on those plates. I want to thank Suzie Hershfield, Peri Pantazes, as well as the parents, for helping in the preparation and serving. I also would like to thank Robin Razowsky for taking pictures.

On Thursday, March 1, 2018, Temple Beth Shalom Religious School students put on a Purim Shpiel in front of family and members of Temple Beth Shalom. Aliza Bental led the students in a spoof of the Purim story. After the play, the students were treated to Hamantaschen and strawberries. I would like to thank Susan Snow for providing the Hamantaschen for the party. I would also like to thank Robin Razowsky for taking pictures. Barby Barlow surprised the students by coming to the Shpiel. It was good to see her, as she is very much missed.

Did Esther ever look lovelier?

Esther (aka Marty Burnette) tossed back her/his long locks, and caught the eye of a very regal King Achashveros (aka Harvey Wolfson) in the return of Beth Shalom's Purim Spiel on Sunday, March 4th. Poor Vashti (Steve Hershfield) appeared to be falling apart physically over her plight, and Hamen (played with much energy and dastardly charm by Jonah DiLeonardo) was booed loudly by the many onlookers. Mordechai (Betty Ann Beckerman) once again bravely stood his ground in this tale of personal activism and group resistance. A tale fit for our time.

Based on a script by George Konnoff and the Port Washington, NY, congregation of Temple Beth Israel, our rendition of the spiel was directed by Rabbi Devorah Buchen, who was literally floored by the talent and costumes on stage. Abby assisted by Jill Lawther with great piano accompaniment by Steve, the spiel was a hit with the enthusiastic audience. So were the specially imported hamentaschen.

Peri Pantazes, a very perky jester in the presentation, said the month and a half of rehearsals were hard but a lot of fun. Other participants included: Ruthie & Barry Belkin, Marc Einstein, Lenore Cohen, Esta and Irv Doliner, Brenda Paul, Adele Fox, Meryl UmanskyAh.

The Purim Spiel

A performance put together with so much cooperation and love that it is hard for me to find words to express the emotion that I feel..
My wish is to thank each and every person that participated in bringing so much joy and laughter to the congregation. My fear is that I will unintentionally leave just one person out. I cannot do that to anyone, so I am now thanking the entire cast and the many people who came forward and just couldn't do enough to make this production a success. Costumes, sets, food (so much work went into buying and preparing the food and drinks for everyone) helped provide an atmosphere of joy. We became a performing troupe that was worthy of many oscars..
On to another cabaret performance…Keep posted.

With many thanks, Rabbi
